We are looking for a Community Engagement Worker to lead our new Creative Community Engagement Programme. You will be joining a highly motivated and experienced team which is planning to expand over the coming year and be part of one of the most exciting community regeneration projects in Scotland.

Initially working from home, but potentially from an office and on site in central Dumfries, our community engagement worker will join our small but expanding project team.

Responsibilities and Duties

You will be expected to promote community engagement and increase participation in MSQ opportunities by building long lasting relationships with a variety of stakeholders.

There are two key elements to the role:

To oversee our engagement budget to commission and develop creative ways for the community of Dumfries to engage with MSQ as we redevelop, refurbish and bring new users to our properties.

To attract participation from people experiencing disadvantage and/or inequality using targeted approaches to identify and remove barriers to participation.

To work directly with community groups and partners including local businesses, creative practitioners and third sector projects to identify and support potential participants and opportunities.

To maintain and build on existing relationships with partners as well as seeking and developing new partnerships and relationships across communities in Dumfries.

To support those who have an idea for social change and are looking to involve others in making that idea happen using the MSQ meanwhile spaces and engagement budget.

To develop and increase MSQ's membership through consultation, surveys and new initiatives e.g. reward schemes.

To work with the MSQ project team and the Communications, Membership and Community sub-group to ensure learning is incorporated into subsequent activities.
